

Stimulus Talk

Many of you might be thinking, how will the first and maybe a second stimulus check impact your income? Stimulus checks are a tax credit so they do not count as income!³

- ❖ This means they should not affect benefits such as Medicaid, Medicare Savings Programs, SSI, SNAP, or Public Housing.³
- ❖ If you have not received a stimulus check; you have until November 21 at midnight to file.

It's never too early so here are some resources that can help you file your taxes for free:

- ❖ Free File:
IRS.gov/FreeFile
- ❖ Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA):
IRS.gov/VITA
- ❖ The Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE):
IRS.gov/TCE

When you file, make sure you claim credits that you might qualify for such as the education and dependent credits. The dependent credit can allow you to receive up to $2,000 per child.

One of the components of becoming financially savvy is to resist buying things we do not need or cannot afford. Retailers take advantage of this time where you may be out and about buying a gift or a simple holiday dinner. They use “discounts” or “flash sales” to catch your attention. The flashy neon signs and tags show you what you can save on the item BUT if you don't need it are you saving? Use those skills from last month's newsletter to help you save and stick to your budget by making a list for groceries and making a list for any necessary purchases you plan on making this month. Look away from the sales tags and check your list to see if you need it! Most importantly, stay safe and financially healthy by staying away from gatherings. Gathering during this pandemic may lead to medical and hospital bills you can avoid by celebrating with those within your home.

Q: How much should be set aside for food/groceries? How does the amount change based on the number of people in your family?

A: According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, as a nation, we spend about 12.9% of our gross income on food.¹ Typically, it is recommended that you spend between 15-20% on food. However, the amount you spend changes with the number of people in your family, how much you make, your age, the neighborhood you live in, etc.¹

- People who make less, spend more of their income on food. The report showed that people who earned the lowest 20% of income spent ~36% on food.¹ Those in the next two higher income brackets spent 19% and 13.4%.¹
- The average amount spent by family size:
 - A family of one spent about 12.3%¹
 - A family of two spent about 9.6%¹
